

Without these channels I'd be lost. I'm a service technician that is always on the road heading to different customers all day long. XM traffic and weather is constantly there for me when I need to know how the travel times are looking and problem areas to avoid so I can give my customers accurate arrival times.